Collecting "Walk Through the Word" Bibles

The We Need Thee Class is considering starting a Bible Study Group. Some of you may remember a few years ago when Galen C. had a bible study text group going. Several people bought a bible named "Walking Through the Word" that was leather bonded. We are looking to use those bibles in the study.

If any of you purchased the bible and would loan their bible to us, please contact Bonnie Chattin.

GMC Update in Indiana

Hi Everyone, Pastor Darren Here.

I received this in an email last week from Rev. Scott Pattison, the lead organizer of our newly forming GMC conference here in Indiana, and wanted to share it with you so you can see what's happening here in Indiana as our new conference is coming together. The startup team he's leading is called the Transitional Conference Advisory Team (TCAT). There is a gathering event coming up in February that I and a few of our laity will be attending. If you're interested in attending let me know. So read on and please keep praying about all that is coming. In Christ, Pastor Darren

Mountain Mission Truck

Once again the Mountain Mission Truck will be stopping by our church. It will be here on Tuesday, January 31. You can bring your donated items to the back corner of the pavilion Monday thru Thursday 8:30am until 4:30pm and Friday 8:30am until 1:30pm through Monday, January 30. Please do not bring old computers or printers.

Pickleball

For anyone wanting to play pickleball, meet in the pavilion on Tuesday Jan 17 at 5:30pm. The net should be here by then and we can begin to learn the game, the rules, and have some fun. You will have to bring your own paddles. This is for fun and fellowship, not a competitive group play. If you are interested e-mail Susie or call the church office 812-882-2220.

Winter Walk invitation

The Holy Walkamolies from First United Methodist Church would like to invite anyone interested to join us on Wednesday mornings at 9am for a short devotion and stroll that lasts approximately 1 hour. We began last May and like to walk outside (in town, at Gregg Park, etc.) when the weather is warmer. We took a break from Thanksgiving to now, but are ready to step out again. Currently, we are meeting inside the McCormick Pavilion while waiting on spring to arrive. Please contact Melissa Hendrix at 812-882-1211 if you are interested. Devotions and announcements about changes in meeting sites are sent via text or phone or email.

“A Spirit of Governance”: On Bishops in the Global Methodist Church

Editor's note:

Today we're introducing the Firebrand Big Read. Each month we will publish one Big Read article that goes into greater depth than our typical articles. The Big Read will tackle a topic by delving into the finer nuances of the issue, presenting more sustained argumentation, and providing thought-provoking analysis. We hope you will enjoy this new feature!

I've heard it said that generals always fight the last war. Perhaps churches do, too. Within the ranks of those disaffiliating from the United Methodist Church, I hear rumblings that we do not need bishops in the Global Methodist Church. Some suggest that if we have them, we should so limit their scope and authority that they can do no harm (and probably no good).

These attitudes are understandable. A number of UMC bishops have acted in bad faith. They have rejected the authority of the General Conference and become a law unto themselves. They have lashed out at those who oppose them. Some have helped to create insurmountable obstacles for churches that wish to leave. Not all UMC bishops have done this. Some have behaved honorably. We should give credit where it is due. Nevertheless, episcopal malpractice has been sufficient to destroy trust not just in individuals, but in the office itself.

To reject the office of bishop, however, would be an exercise in fighting the last war. There are two main problems with the office of bishop in the UMC, and both can be remedied in a new denomination. The first is that the UMC has turned bishops into managers, and it has lodged them within a vast and top-heavy bureaucracy that directs them away from matters of spiritual leadership. Additionally, it has saddled them with responsibility for an antiquated and untenable appointment system. The "bishop-as-manager" model is a failed modernist experiment. If we look back to the New Testament and the early church, we see the development of the office of bishop as a necessary one for the care of the spiritual life of the church. The bishop was a pastor, evangelist, and defender of the faith. Certain administrative duties necessarily attended this work, particularly in the bishop's pastoral role. This administrative work, however, directly served the church's evangelistic mission.

HAVE A FAVORITE HYMN?

It has come to my attention that some of you have favorite hymns you would like to have sung during our worship services. If you have a favorite and would like to make a request, please email me. During the first week of January, I will also place a box in the front office where I will collect your suggestions. I will keep a list in my office and plug them into the worship services when appropriate. (Your suggestions do not have to be from our blue hymnal.)

Please note that when music is selected, it is carefully thought out and prayed about. Even though about 95% of the hymns chosen are from our blue hymnal, there is a myriad of wonderful sacred music, hymns, and choruses out there. It is my job as your music director to not only help the worship services flow by planning appropriate music, but also to act as an agent to help you grow in your walk with Jesus. One way this can be done is to introduce you to a variety of music or hymns you might not be familiar with. Yes, we all love the old favorites, but we might even find some new favorites!

Thank you for your support and encouragement!

Shelly

WE COULD STILL USE A FEW MORE SINGERS!

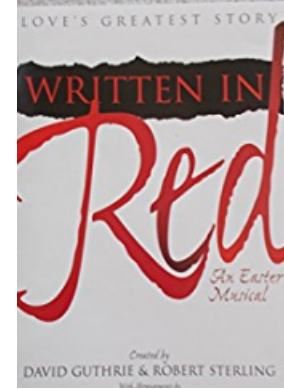

Community Church will be doing an Easter Cantata in the spring.

It's a choir favorite: Written in Red.

We really need YOU to come and sing with us. If you want a short-term commitment to choir, this is your chance. On Thursday evenings, we will begin rehearsal with Cantata music, and those singing only the cantata will be dismissed.

All part types are needed—especially altos.

Cantata rehearsals will begin January 19.
