Disappointment, Expectation and Hope: Confessing Movement Response to General Conference Announcements

Release: Monday, March 1, 2021

Meeting virtually on February 26, 2021, the Board of the Confessing Movement within the United Methodist Church expressed disappointment along with expectation and hope responding to the decisions of the General Commission on General Conference and the Council of Bishops regarding plans for the postponed 2020 General Conference. Along with many evangelicals and others across the denomination, the Confessing Movement Board looks forward to acting on the Protocol for Reconciliation and Grace through Separation. Confessing Movement Executive Director Patricia Miller summed up the response of the Board, “We sympathize with those who are deeply disappointed or discouraged by the delay. We understand your frustration. We would like the General Conference to address the Protocol as soon as possible. At the same time, we recognize the difficult challenges the worldwide pandemic has placed before a global church and our leaders. We want our sister and brother delegates from outside the United States to have full voice and opportunity to participate in the decisions around the Protocol.”

General Conference Postponed until 2022

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UM News) — General Conference organizers announced that the denomination's top lawmaking assembly — long postponed by pandemic — must wait to meet another year. The global gathering is now scheduled for Aug. 29-Sept. 6, 2022, in Minneapolis. At the same time, the Council of Bishops has announced a special one-day General Conference on May 8 to deal with a limited agenda. Heather Hahn reports.

Church Family and Friends,

Eric and I appreciate all the prayers over the last year and especially the last few months along with the cards and calls regarding our Dad, Wilbur. Thanks to God that we were given another year with our Dad and more importantly the week at home on hospice.

Secondly, we want to thank you for all the prayers and calls regarding our mother, Faye. Who would ever have thought within days of burying our Dad that we would move to another medical situation with mom. Please continue to pray as this will be a long journey and we know that God has all of us in his hands. Each day, mom continues to improve with a few setbacks but we believe she will overcome this as we and mom have a strong faith that God will get us through.

Blessings to each of you,
Sandra and Eric Stewart

Thank you for all the prayers and beautiful cards we received with moms passing. We are thankful for our church family.

John and Anita Lafferty.
